

Kingston Oil Co. Sells Plants to Beacon Oil Co.

Is Subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and Is Growing Rapidly—Kingston Oil Company Will Continue in Business, Handling Beacon Company Products—Sale Includes Big Dock Property Here.

A contract of sale has been entered into whereby the Beacon Oil Company, a subsidiary company of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, will purchase the large distributing plant and real property of the Kingston Oil Company, Inc. under the contract of sale the Beacon Oil Company will lease the plant for a long term of years the plant and equipment will continue in business the same as at present, distributing the products of the Beacon Oil Company.

The price paid for the plant and equipment of the Kingston Oil Company was not made public but is understood to be a very considerable sum and makes the transfer one of the largest business transactions to take place in Kingston in some time.

The sale to the Beacon Oil Company includes the large distribution property on the dock on what was formerly the Newark Lime and Cement Company property, the distribution plant at Ellenville and the tank station properties on the Plank road just across the viaduct at the Clinton Avenue property which is under lease by the Kingston Oil Company. Included in the sale are the pumps and other equipment in this vicinity.

Kingston Company Continues. Through the sale of the property to the Beacon Company the Kingston Oil Company will in no way be affected in its distribution of gasoline and oils and the Kingston Oil Company will continue in business as in the past, distributing the product of the Beacon Company. It is expected that within a short time the present red pumps from Atlantic gasoline is distributed will be replaced by the well known green and white Colonial gasoline pumps of the Beacon Oil Company which are so familiar throughout New England and the West.

Valuable Connections Acquired. By the sale of the local plant to the Beacon Company and the leasing back by the Kingston Oil Company the local company has acquired very valuable connections. The local company will acquire the prestige and advantages of the extensive advertising campaign which the Beacon Company is putting on as well as having the distribution of a high grade, standard quality gasoline which is of known and uniform high grade. The Beacon Company has been in business for a number of years and has gained a strong position throughout the east and especially throughout the New England states where the green and white Colonial gasoline distribution stations are a familiar mark.

Grew from Small Beginning. The Kingston Oil Company, Inc., was incorporated in 1921 when a number of the local automobile men joined together and formed the company for the purpose of distributing gasoline among themselves. At that time the company handled Tilden products and from a small beginning the company grew until its operations were extended throughout the county, supplying many stations with its product.

Later the company increased its operations and widened its activities and caused to be erected a distribution plant at Ellenville for the service of the Rondout valley. The filling station on the Plank road and that on Clinton Avenue were created and operated by the company and practically all of the automotive dealers in Kingston handle Kingston Oil Company products.

A lease was taken on the Albany Avenue filling station and that property improved and a modern station built out. For some time the company distributed its products from the Flatbush Avenue distribution station to which gasoline and oil was conveyed by tank cars.

Arrest Porter Who Discovered Bomb

New York, April 10 (AP).—A negro postoffice porter who on Sunday "discovered" a bomb addressed to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, was arrested today as the man who mailed the package.

The porter, Thomas J. Callegry, denied the charge, but postal inspectors and police said they were convinced he sent the bomb in the hope of winning promotion by "discovering" it. In substantiation of this theory they pointed to a case in Chicago where a porter was promoted by finding a bomb among the mail in the postoffice there.

The inspectors said that at Callegry's home in Hoboken, N. J., they found coils that were similar in size to that used in the bomb. Callegry said he used the material in the repair of radio sets.

The bomb was a crudely constructed affair which police said could not have exploded. Federal authorities announced today that Callegry had confessed to U. S. Attorney Charles H. Tuttle that he had made and mailed a bomb to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and then "discovered" it in the general post office with the idea of obtaining advancement in the postal service.

Callegry, after he had been scrutinized by detectives in the criminal lineup at police headquarters, is under arrest charged with sending explosives through the mails.

Rain Followed By Fall of Snow

Kingston, after sweltering in mid-summer temperatures since Sunday, awoke today to find a drop of nearly 50 degrees in temperature since Monday. Rain which commenced to fall shortly before daybreak turned into snow during the early morning and the ground was quickly covered with a coating of snow.

Residents who had allowed their heater fires to go out, owing to the mid-summer weather of Sunday and Monday, were forced to start a fire again as the sudden drop in temperature made houses too chilly for comfort.

The open trolley cars which were placed in operation on Sunday and Tuesday, were replaced with the closed cars this morning.

Criminal Cases In County Court

County court will reconvene Thursday morning at which time it is expected there will be moved for trial criminal cases. Due to absence of attorneys no cases were ready on Monday when court convened and an adjournment was taken until Thursday in order to give counsel an opportunity to prepare cases. District Attorney Traver has prepared a criminal calendar upon which there are 34 cases which are ready for trial by the People.

Appointed Notaries Public. Charles M. Haymann, Jr., Pine Hill, and Edd VanDerlyn, 82 North Main street, Ellenville, have been appointed notaries public in and for Ulster county by the department of state of New York.

permits ocean going tankers to dock at the property and unload direct into the storage tanks. A portion of the property on the creek front is leased for shipyard purposes.

Present Management Continued. The transfer by the Kingston Oil Company to the Beacon Oil Company of all real property and the subsequent leasing back to the Kingston Oil Company of the plant means that the present management will be continued and the Kingston Oil Company will continue to operate as in the past, handling the Beacon products and having the assurance of a uniform high quality of the product which they will handle.

The Beacon Oil Company is making rapid growth in this section of the country and is steadily acquiring distribution facilities which will shortly place the green and white pumps all the way from the Canadian border south to New York city and beyond and east throughout New England.

Officers of the Kingston Oil Company, Inc., are J. D. Schenck, president; A. H. Chambers, vice-president; John Millard, treasurer, and William P. Glass, secretary.

Stimson Will Not Be Social Arbiter

Secretary Announces That State Department Shall No Longer Decide Questions Not Affecting Diplomatic Corps—That Body Must Determine Mrs. Gann's Status.

Washington, April 10 (AP).—Social Washington woke this morning to find its whole order on the brink of either a complete collapse or a thorough overhauling, because of the declaration yesterday by Secretary Stimson that the State Department shall no longer decide questions of precedence not affecting the diplomatic corps.

The secretary's decision was reached in response to the protest by Vice President Curtis against the ruling of former Secretary Kellogg that his sister and official hostess, Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, should be seated at official dinners below the wives of diplomats, and to the request of the corps yesterday for a definite ruling.

He held that, while the former secretary's ruling correctly set forth the custom of precedence in recent years, the department had no authority to determine the social status of any except foreign representatives.

In his reply to Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador and Dean of the Corps, he said that decisions as to the precedence in which American officials and their wives should be received within the homes of the diplomats "rests wholly within the discretion of the members of that corps themselves."

After the secretary's reply was delivered to the British Ambassador, the members of the corps were summoned for a meeting today to consider the problem.

Believes Matter Will Work Out.

In a letter to Vice President Curtis, Mr. Stimson said he had no doubt that "this matter will work out with the fullest courtesy to you and your official hostess." While Mr. Curtis has refrained from comment since making public his protest, his friends have been convinced that the only solution which would be satisfactory to him would be the recognition of his sister as having social rank equal to his own, and that he would not attend functions at which she was not assured such recognition.

One implication of the Stimson decision which is likely to be a severe blow to Washington hostesses is that it will take away from them the helpful offices of the protocol division of the state department.

Social Catastrophe Averted.

Most, if not all, Washington hostesses have depended on this departmental arbiter to rescue them from many social dilemmas growing out of conflicting or doubtful questions of precedence, and out of its responses a semi-official order has grown up which has been more or less closely observed. Through its diplomatic suggestions many a social catastrophe has been averted, several grateful hostesses agreed.

The division was originally created to be of assistance to the White House staff in arranging social functions, but its ministrations were soon sought by lesser officials. There has never been anything official about any of its rulings, however, James Dunn, the chief, and other government officials declare. Nevertheless, as the diplomatic corps has recognized its rulings as final, they have been generally accepted.

Madison, Wis., April 10 (AP).—A bill to take the state of Wisconsin out of the prohibition question and which would turn the duties of licensing beverage sales over to local units, has started on its way through the legislature. It would repeal the Severson prohibition act, the repeal of which was favored in a statewide referendum last week.

Health Board Talks of Milk And Bob Veal

No Change To Be Made in Milk Code Governing Grade A Pasteurized—Plenty of Bob Veal Being Brought Here and Slaughtered—Two Tons of Meat Destroyed.

The milk question and the butchering of bob veal in the city were the principal matters brought to the attention of the board of health at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening. The board decided not to make any change in the city milk code covering the provisions for Grade A pasteurized milk, and action will be taken against those caught killing and offering bob veal for sale.

Dr. Frederic Holcomb, chairman of the milk committee of the board, reported that the committee had met with a committee from the local milk dealers and talked over the question of Grade A pasteurized milk. The city code provided that such milk shall be from tuberculin tested herds, which provision is not required by the state code. The milk dealers wanted the state code provision adopted in place of the city provision. Dr. Holcomb said that Dr. Laidlaw, sanitary inspector of the state for this district, and Dr. Fleming of the state department had met with the committee and that the matter had been thoroughly discussed. It was brought out, he said, that only 25 per cent of the herds supplying milk to the city had not been tuberculin tested, and Dr. Fleming had stated he stood ready at all times to assist in that work. The milk committee, Dr. Holcomb said, did not believe it would work any hardship on the milk dealers by continuing in force the present provision covering that grade of milk. The report was received.

Plenty of Bob Veal.

Dr. E. H. Loughran, city health officer, said that this was having plenty of trouble with bob veal in the city. A considerable amount was being brought into the city and no one knew what became of it. It was taken to Rondout, he said, and slaughtered in garages and sheds; but where the meat goes to no one knows and that is a question he would like answered.

Sanitary Inspector Cook said that that day he had seized about two tons of meat and had ordered it destroyed owing to the condition in which he found it. It was stored in a large ice box without ice and was not fit for consumption.

Mr. Cook also said that he was having a lot of trouble with local bakery wagons and in getting the bakers to cover their cakes and pies. After talking over the question of bob veal the board directed Mr. Cook to get in touch with the corporation counsel and see what criminal action could be taken against those handling bob veal.

Commissioner Moore called attention to a complaint made by Howard Mosher of 155 Spring street regarding houses on Spring street diverting all the dirty water from their house sinks into the gutters. Children played in the water and it was very unsanitary. The complaint was referred to Mr. Cook and Superintendent Mills of the board of public works for attention.

Births Exceed Deaths

The reports of the officers showed that the birth record still continued to exceed the death record with 59 births and 44 deaths reported in the city during March.

Fire Destroys Oldest Landmark at Catskill

Catskill's oldest landmark, a picturesque stone house that stood west of the Leeds Bridge, was destroyed by fire on Saturday list. The old house was built in 1705 and the 224 years of its existence it has had five owners. It was formerly a part of the Salisbury farm, Bergen Patent. The house was built for Francis Salisbury, son of Silvester Salisbury, one of the earlier settlers of Old Catskill. Later James Van Deusen became the owner and then his son, Claudius Van Deusen, left him to it. In trying to extinguish the blaze Mr. Tiffany, the owner, was burned about the face and his hair, eyebrows and mustache were signed.

Build Highway to Top of Whiteface

Construction to Start With Appropriation Made by Bill Signed by Governor Roosevelt—Other Bills Signed.

Albany, April 10 (AP).—Construction of a highway to the summit of Whiteface Mountain in the Adirondacks was provided for today through the signing of the Breckerton-Porter bill by Governor Roosevelt. The measure appropriates $150,000 with which to start construction. The estimate for the completed road is approximately $1,800,000.

The road will be operated as a toll highway until the cost of construction has been met, when the road will be incorporated in the General Highway System of the state to be maintained by the Highway Department.

The governor also announced he had signed the Porter bill to allow New York state to bid for the winter events of the 1932 Olympics. Lake Placid had been chosen as the site of the proposed events, but it was found that a bob-sled run, required by Olympic officials, was lacking. The Porter bill appropriates $2,090 for construction of the run.

State Publicity Bureau.

A State Bureau of Publicity, operating under the supervision of the State Conservation Department, also was provided for. The Governor signed the bill of Mrs. Rhoda Fox Graves, assemblyman of St. Lawrence, to establish such a bureau, the function of which will be to disseminate information of the advantages of the state, historical points and transportation and highway facilities. An appropriation of $14,000 is provided for the expenses of the bureau.

Appropriations for preliminary surveys looking to the construction of bridges spanning the Hudson at Albany and Troy also have been approved by the Governor.

The Governor announced he had signed a series of measures amending the New York city charter relative to compensation and retirement of city employees and another group making technical adjustments in state tax laws. Five bills of a local nature were vetoed.

STOCK SPLITUP FOR WOOLWORTH COMPANY

Woodstock Wants City To Furnish It Water

Made Request at Water Power and Control Hearing Tuesday That It Be Allowed to Install Hydrants and Tap City Line—City Has Spent Million Dollars On Project Whose Approval It Now Seeks.

Stabbed to Death In Hotel Lobby

Chicago, April 10 (AP).—A fashionable after theatre throng saw Harry Townsend of Milwaukee fatally stabbed late last night in the lobby of the Hotel Stevens, known as the largest hostelry in the world.

Townsend's jugular vein was severed when Bart Rogers, a former employee of the Milwaukee foundry of which Townsend is superintendent, went at him with a knife. Townsend died early today.

Rogers, following the attack, elbowed his way through the crowd of men and women, many in evening attire, and to the street where he surrendered to a policeman. He said he had gone to a hotel to see Townsend about a job and that Townsend had called him a "scab" and knocked him down. "He was much larger than I," Rogers told police, "and I used the knife to defend myself."

Townsend, who was 42 years old, was at the hotel attending a convention of foundrymen. Rogers said that when Townsend called him a "scab" he produced a card showing he had been a union man since 1891, but that Townsend's anger continued high, resulting finally in blows. It was after he had been knocked down by Townsend, Rogers said, that he drew his knife. Townsend's wife died three weeks ago, leaving him with three children.

Britain Satisfied With Dawes

Washington, April 10 (AP).—Formal announcement of the appointment of former Vice President Dawes as ambassador to Great Britain was made today at the White House.

The announcement was made after receipt of word from the State Department that the British government had advised that the appointment of General Dawes would be entirely acceptable to King George.

General Dawes's nomination will be sent to the Senate next week and after its confirmation the new ambassador will be given leave of absence as is necessary for him to complete the work of reorganizing the finances of Santo Domingo, upon which he is now engaged. When that is completed about five weeks hence, he will return to Washington to confer with Secretary Stimson regarding British-American relations before proceeding to the London post.

The City's Position.

With the close of Mr. Harrison's testimony Mr. Flemming said he would like to make a statement for the record that would amplify the statement made at the morning session in regard to the city's position in the matter. He said that the water board desired to take all of the flow of the Mink Hollow stream with the exception of half a million gallons daily.

From the Sawkill stream the city asks permission to take from a point in the upper Sawkill near Shady, a supply equivalent to five million gallons a day.

Mr. Flemming said that when the present project was completed the two reservoirs on the lower Sawkill would not be required.

Mr. Flemming said he desired to make it plain on the record that no water would be taken from the Sawkill when the flow was less than half a million gallons a day.

Engineer Sanborn on Stand.

James F. Sanborn of the firm of Sanborn & Borger, the consulting engineers in charge of the improvements to the Kingston water system for the past four years, was next called. In brief he outlined how the city was now obtaining its water supply and how it would obtain water when the proposed project was completed. At present all of the water consumed in the city came from the Sawkill, being fed into the city by a 20-inch pipe line from Reservoir No. 2 and an 18-inch pipe line from Reservoir No. 1.

The 18-inch line supplies the lower half of the city while the 20-inch line supplies the upper half. The new plan of the water board considers improvements of distribution in the city by the construction of larger mains in the streets and installation of new hydrants.

The raising of the dam at Cooper Lake had increased the storage capacity there from five hundred million gallons to exactly one thousand million gallons, or double the capacity. This water from Cooper Lake will be led to Reservoir No. 2 by a 24-inch pipe line (this pipe line is now under construction and will be completed by July) where it will connect with the 20-inch line at the filter plant. There has also been provided a storage reservoir near the city on the westerly side of the Esopus creek which has a capacity of twelve million gallons and which is connected to the two pipe lines leading into the city.

Sufficient Supply Until 1950.

Mr. Sanborn testified that the present plans for the improvement to the water system was intended to take care of the city and supply a sufficient amount of water until 1950. The present filter plant is amply adequate to take care of the water supplied the city as improvements have been made to the plant within the past two years.

Estimated Cost $1,135,000. The estimated cost of the improvements had been $1,135,000 but the work already done to date shows that the plan can be carried through (Continued on Page Five.)

Postpone Parade Until Thursday

On account of the bad weather conditions Southard & Bickert, local automobile dealers, have postponed the parade and celebration which was scheduled for this evening in connection with the arrival in town of the Viking, a new V type motor car. Plans had been made to have the American Legion and the Viking meet at the Viking at the Hudson Creek Bridge and form a parade over the business streets, ending at the show rooms at Broadway and Field Court.

Due to the weather conditions it was deemed wise to postpone the celebration until Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock, when the same parade will be carried out. At the show rooms the new car will be displayed by Mayor Dempsey and the public will be given an opportunity to inspect it. In the parade will be a number of local Oldsmobile owners and several factory men and officials of the company will be guests of the local distributors.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, April 10.—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—Spinach prices were higher today as a result of active buying and moderate receipts on the wholesale market. Curly Savoy spinach from Virginia and Texas jobbed out at 25c-$1.00 a basket basket.

Last month New York city received 661 carloads of spinach. Supplies were drawn from Texas, Virginia and South Carolina.

Florida string beans, particularly when fancy, met prompt sale at higher prices. Arrivals were moderate and various green varieties packed in seven-eighths bushel hampers sold at $1.25-$4.50. Wax beans brought $1.00-$5.50. Florida continued to be the chief source of supply.

Last week Arizona's carlot shipments increased to 583 cars. California's forwardings decreased to 165.

California cauliflower met rather slow sale, but at no material change in prices. Offerings were moderate. Crates of nine and fifteen heads peddled out at $1.50-$2.75, chiefly $2.00-$2.50.

California to April 6 marketed 5,963 carloads of cauliflower. Prices on New York state apples, pears, carrots and potatoes showed no important change.

Woodstock Wants City Water

With the Low Sawkill Water.
 Mr. Sanborn in reply to questions stated that under the proposed plan the water board did not propose to draw any more water from the Sawkill, that at the present time when the city is drawing five million gallons daily and under the new plan it will only draw that amount when the water is high.

Ashokan Water Not Feasible.
 In reply to questions by John W. Eckert, who appeared for the Martin Cantine Company and the Diamond Mills at Saugerties, who are objecting to the granting of the city's application, Mr. Sanborn said that it was not feasible for the city to take water from the Ashokan reservoir owing to the prohibitive cost and the length of the pipe line that would be necessary to lay. Mr. Sanborn said that that plan had been considered and an estimate of the cost made; he did not recollect what the figures were but they were in excess of the cost of the plan now under consideration.

Woodstock Has Water Supply.
 In reply to questions by Mr. Fleming, Mr. Sanborn said that Woodstock would have other water sources than the Kingston water shed, and could obtain water without calling on the city to furnish it.

Mr. Sanborn in reply to questions by County Attorney Robert G. Groves, who appeared for the town of Woodstock which is also objecting to the city's application, said it would be possible for Woodstock to be supplied with water from the pipe line under construction from Cooper Lake to Reservoir No. 2.

How Woodstock Could Get Water.
 Executive Engineer Suter said that he was going to ask Mr. Sanborn a rather pointed question, "If Kingston was getting its water elsewhere, where would it be best for Woodstock to go to get a water supply?"

Mr. Sanborn replied that in his opinion the best plan would be for the village to sink wells and then as the village grew in population it would have to go further afield for its water. It would be possible from the village to go to the Sawkill and filter the water.

With the testimony of Mr. Sanborn the city rested its case.

Loughran as Water Expert.
 Mr. Groves called County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran, who had laid out the plans for the Saugerties water system. Mr. Loughran did not agree with Mr. Sanborn on available water resources and said that the best available source for the village was the one sought by the city of Kingston.

What Diamond Mills Use.
 Fred Van Voorhis, engineer of the Diamond Mills, was called to the stand by Mr. Eckert and said that the mill was using two million gallons of water daily from the Esopus creek in its process of manufacturing high-grade paper. The only water available, he said, was from the Esopus creek, and the two million gallons he mentioned was not to supply power. The mill was purchasing its power from the Central Hudson. He said the mill had not been able to secure sufficient water for power since the construction of the Ashokan reservoir.

River Water Not Usable.
 Mr. Van Voorhis said it had been necessary when the water in the Esopus creek was low to pipe water to the plant from the Hudson river but that this water was not available owing to the amount of time in it which clogged the machinery.

How Woodstock Fights Fires.
 George Neher of Woodstock, one of the taxpayers of that place who is objecting to the city's plans, was called by Clyde Gardner, who is representing the taxpayers of Woodstock in objection to the plan, and Mr. Neher said that they used the water of the Sawkill and also from wells to fight fires.

The village had a modern motor fire pumper which it used.

Mr. Neher said he had heard of wells going dry in Woodstock when the Sawkill was low.

Supervisor George Elwyn of Woodstock also testified he had heard of wells going dry when the Sawkill was low.

In reply to questions by Mr. Groves, Mr. Elwyn said that the time was now ripe in Woodstock for the installation of fire hydrants and in his opinion from twenty to twenty-five hydrants were needed.

Mr. Groves's Amendment.
 Mr. Groves said that he would like permission to amend his original objection filed with the commission so to include that if permission be granted the city to carry out its present plan that provision be made for the fire district of Woodstock to install twenty-five fire hydrants which were to be hooked up to the Kingston water system.

Lasher is a Fireman.
 Victor Lasher of Woodstock, who is a member of the Woodstock fire department, also testified to wells being dry when the waters of the Sawkill were low.

Supervisor Elwyn said that he would like the right to speak as an objector and that what Woodstock was asking was that its interests be safeguarded.

Want Kingston Water.
 There were no other witnesses called and Mr. Suter asked the various attorneys if they wished to sum up. He called first on Mr. Groves who stated that Woodstock would like a provision made, if the city's plan was approved by the commission, whereby the village would be given permission to install twenty-five fire hydrants with the further provision that if the growth of the village should continue that it would be able to obtain its water supply from the watershed taken by the city, and would be allowed to purchase water from Kingston at such rates as would prove just and equitable; that suitable and adequate protection be given Woodstock to take care of it for fire and domestic purposes.

Commission Particularly Situated.
 Mr. Eckert said he realized that the commission was in a peculiar situation as the city has already expended nearly a million dollars before making the present application and asked for sufficient time to submit a proposition to the commission whereby those who were damaged could be compensated. He believed that some provision should be made to appoint a tribunal to take testimony and decide what damages if any should be awarded.

Sanborn Questioned.
 Mr. Suter said he would like to ask Mr. Sanborn another question and asked if he had given any consideration to the question of attaching fire hydrants to the proposed pipe line.

Mr. Sanborn replied that the water board had not expected to be called upon to supply water to Woodstock, and that certain changes which would be rather costly would have to be made to the pipe line. He also said that if the city was forced to furnish water for the hydrants in Woodstock it would place an unexpected responsibility on the city.

Flemming Denied Any Damage.
 Mr. Fleming said that no evidence had been produced at the hearing to show that the two concerns in Saugerties would be damaged by the granting of the city's application. As a matter of fact since the building of the Ashokan reservoir it had been shown that the mills had not been able to obtain sufficient water from the Esopus creek to supply them with power, and that they had a limited use of the water for the process of manufacture.

Rather than take more water from the Sawkill, Mr. Fleming said, the city would in fact add more to the stream as the main supply for the city hereafter would not be from the Sawkill but from the Mink Hollow stream and Cooper Lake, and the city would take water from the Sawkill at Shady only at times when water was high and there was surplus.

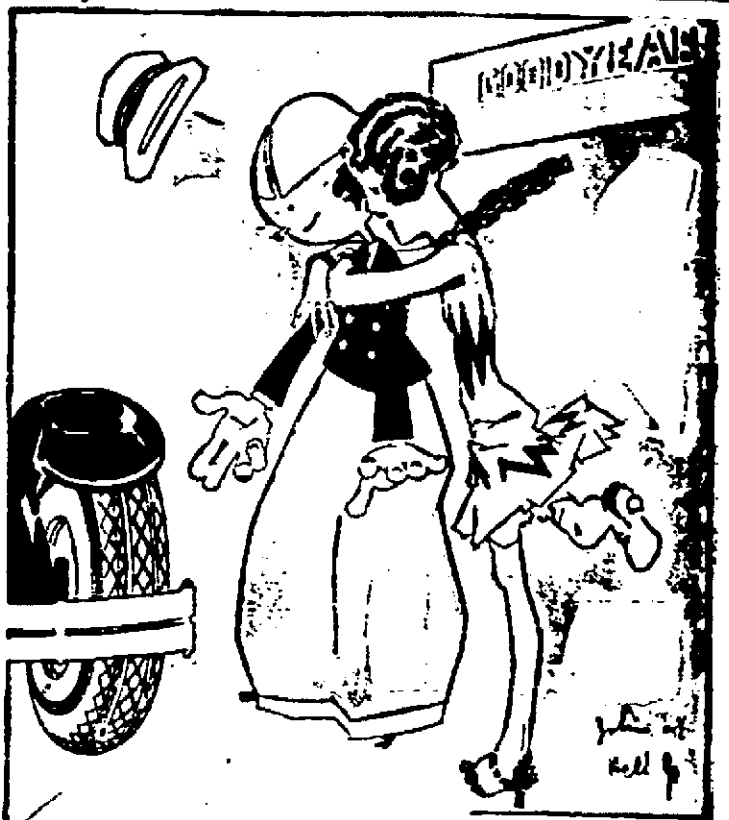

What Kingston has done and will do will as a matter of fact help Woodstock as it has been proven that they have had a water supply, and as for any damage to the Diamond Mills he thought that was rather far fetched.

The hearing was then closed.

Abuse doesn't pay unless you're an evangelist.

Voice-Controlled Train Is Invented

Schenectady, N. Y.—A voice-controlled electric train has been developed by the General Electric company. "Conny Jones," a toy electric locomotive, starts forward, reverses or stops on command.

Orders are issued through an ordinary telephone transmitter. The command "Go ahead, Conny," is carried through a radio detector tube to a special selector which determines the polarity in the track and upon this polarity is dependent the direction in which the locomotive moves.

"Back up" sends the engine backward and "stop" breaks the circuit. Blowing into the transmitter will check the engine at any point.

SEAT IN PARLIAMENT GOES WITH ISLAND UP FOR SALE

Highest Bidder for Brechou, Small Isle in English Channel, Gets Both.

Southampton, England.—Anybody want to buy a seat in a parliament, even if it is not much of a parliament?

If so, the would-be M. P. or parliamentarian has only to make the highest bid for the island, or islet, of Brechou, in the Channel Islands, which is now for sale.

Ownership of Brechou carries with it a seat in the parliament of Sark. Sark is seven miles east of Guernsey, where the cows come from, and measures three and one-half miles long by one and one-half miles wide and has a normal population of considerably under 1,000.

Brechou is a quarter of a mile west of Sark and is politically a part of Sark, which in itself retains many of the queer rights, privileges, and sometimes obligations of the Channel Islands, which have a history as quaint as their people. Until a year ago the Channel Islands were exempt from the dreaded British inheritance taxes.

Local self-government, based upon customs, laws, grants, charters, treaties, and what not, is strong in the Channel Islands. Much of the custom is French rather than English, and French of an antiquated type, resembling the Norman French, is the official language in many instances. To be an M. P. in the parliament of Sark is not an empty honor, and is worth having by a wealthy man with a love of the quaint.

Brechou has been in the hands of one family for many years. It has a dwelling house and farm, an arable plateau, a mile of winding road, fishing facilities and a landing place for motorboats.

The island is the same size as Jethou, the Channel paradise belonging to Compton Mackenzie, the novelist.

The silver mines of Little Sark are also up for sale. Parts of these mines, which were abandoned 80 years ago as unproductive, run 300 feet below the sea, but the land area comprises some twenty acres of pasture.

This property also claims a separate and practically independent existence on its own side of the lathum.

Oil Wells Made to Produce Salt

Sand Springs, Okla.—Salt water in oil wells, which has cost the petroleum industry millions of dollars, is an asset to Dr. Otto Martin, petroleum chemist, who recovers the salt and turns fresh water into streams usually dry.

A three-mile pipe line extends from salt water wells near Sand Springs to Martin's plant, where he recovers an average of 12.5 per cent of pure salt. He uses settling basins rather than heat to crystallize the salt, a variation from usual methods.

Besides producing table salt, Martin sends his recovery to market to be used as nitrate fertilizer, iodine and soda ash.

Six-Foot Pike Tries to Dine on Little Pig

Algion, Ind.—They grow pike in this neighborhood. Here's the story of Alva Hodge and he has the piscatorial exhibit to prove it.

Stocking a pond on his farm with minnows, Hodge never was able to find one of them matured. Then ducks began disappearing. Mr. Hodge began observing the pond closely, and when a tow and her brood waded into the water one of the pigs began to squeal. He investigated. A monster pike had the little porker's leg in his mouth. Mr. Hodge took a club and killed the fish, which was 6 feet 2 inches long and weighed 124 pounds.

Pole Buys Farm Held 282 Years by One Family

Springfield, Mass.—A tract of 20 acres in the adjoining town of Agawam, part of a tract granted by William Pynchon, founder of Springfield, to John Leonard 282 years ago, which had been handed down through ten generations of the family, has been sold to Ida Nowitz, a Polish-American farmer.

The wording of the original grant by Pynchon in 1637 conveyed a tract extending rather vaguely many miles to the west.

Dog Presented To Capt. Moore

The closing sessions of the Kingston police school were held Tuesday at the city hall, and were marked by the presentation of a pedigree Irish wire terrier to Captain A. B. Moore, the school instructor, by the members of the class. The certificates of attendance were presented to each member of the class by Mayor E. J. Dempsey. The dog which was presented to Captain Moore was purchased at the dog kennels of Eli Dupuy at High Falls. It is a full blooded wire terrier, four months old, and is a beauty. Just what Captain Moore will name his new pet is not known.

IDENTIFIED AS RANDY WHO STOLE HIS TAXI

Schenectady, April 10 (AP).—Benjamin Miller, under guard in Amsterdam City Hospital, where he was said to have a fair chance of recovery from poison swallowed after a gun battle with a Gloversville policeman, was identified yesterday by Fred Baker of Schenectady as the bandit who stole his taxicab last Saturday.

Baker said he picked Miller up in downtown Schenectady and took him out on the Mariaville road. A few miles outside the city, Baker said, Miller showed a gun in his ribs and ordered him out of the cab. The abandoned taxicab was found about three miles nearer Schenectady.

Miller was arrested by Patrolman Oscar James of Gloversville after he had, according to police, attempted to hold up an Amsterdam taxicab driver near that city.

NEW MACHINE CHEWS OLD ELECTRIC BULBS.

New York (AP).—The rumbler, a new device to salvage brass from worn out light bulbs, is announced by the New York Edison company.

The name describes, the noise made in reclaiming the brass socket shells, the only parts considered worth saving.

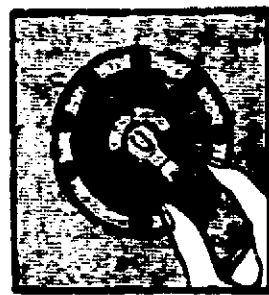

In shape it is a cylinder, of 500 bulb capacity, with two sets of steel teeth set on bars inside. While the drum revolves, they chew to bits glass and filament, which falls out of holes in the bottom, leaving the shells shiny and clean. The company recycles about 300,000 shells yearly. Until the rumbler was devised, the work was done by hand.

Woman Acquitted of Manslaughter.

Albuquerque, N. M., April 10 (AP).—Miss Bertha Lipe, former head of New Mexico Girls' Welfare Home, was acquitted by a jury here of charges of manslaughter which grew out of the death of Helen Haskew, an 18-year-old inmate of the home, following an injection of "twilight sleep."

You are Paying for a Packard Why not Own One?

SEVENTY per cent of those who buy the Packard Standard Eight give up other makes of cars—thousands in the ten to fifteen hundred dollar class. These new owners quickly learn—

That it costs no more to operate and maintain a Packard than their old cars—cars costing even a thousand dollars less.

And that it costs no more to own a Packard because Packard owners keep their cars nearly twice as long and drive them nearly twice as far as the lower-priced cars they trade in.

Those who buy on the payment plan find—

That they keep their cars several times as long as it takes to pay for them—a relief to those who have made monthly payments every other year on other cars.

And that on the average, the value of their used cars equals or exceeds the down payment on the new car—leaving each small monthly payment the largest cash outlay in the having of a Packard.

Ninety-four out of every hundred who buy Packard cars never leave the Packard family but continue to buy Packard cars—proof that "Ask The Man Who Owns One" means just what it says.

Now $160 Less

All models of the Packard Standard Eight were reduced $160 on March 4th. The new prices, at the factory, range from $2275 for the Five-Passenger Sedan to $2675 for the Seven-Passenger Sedan-Limousine.

When may we examine your used car and tell you how easily you may have a luxurious new Packard Eight? You will be under no obligation in giving us an opportunity to serve you.

Little Journeys in Americana
By LESTER B. COLBY

The Icarians

GOOD people sometimes need to me, in my forty-seven story tower in Chicago where I write these things of mine, strange books and pamphlets and printed bits. They are Americana. And so I find many trails to follow if I would travel them all. Very interesting trails, filled with human interest and heartaches as well as joys.

Have you ever seen the little book entitled, "Voyage en Icarie"? It was written by Etienne Cabet. History is filled with strange people. Few stranger than Etienne. In his day France gave him many honors. He was a member of the chamber of deputies. He was attorney general of Corsica. His mind radiated brilliance. France stood ready to bestow upon him almost any honor. Then he got his crazy notions and queer ideas.

But crazy as they were, his following grew and many were ready to call him "The Christ." Yes, that was their faith in him and that, thousands did call him. He organized a peculiar sect. History is filled with such, formed in the name of religion. Cabet called those who joined him Icarians. Icarus was a character in Greek mythology who fastened wings to his shoulders with wax and flew into the sky. Finally he flew so high that the sun melted the wax. His wings came off—and he fell. The name seems a bit prophetic.

Brigham Young had abandoned Nauvoo, Illinois, in the late 1840's, junking his city that once held 25,000 people and leading those bold enough to follow him westward to Utah. Cabet moved into the deserted Nauvoo in 1850. Cabet's grip, like that of Joseph Smith, first Mormon chieftain, and later that of Brigham Young, was given strength by personal magnetism and a certain fanaticism.

In his "Voyage en Icarie" Etienne Cabet lays down his ideal community. Somewhere sometime, if you find this book, read it. It tells of a place where all are happy, no rich, no poor; each striving to do good; no sin, no money, no speculation, no gamblers, no murderers, no thieves.

At one time he had as many as 500 followers in Nauvoo. They took over the abandoned homes the Mormons left and built a few more. Those they made were of grout, a mixture of sand and plaster. The waters of the years have dissolved them quite. They have vanished, leaving no trace. It was much so with all they did.

Men, seeking the answer to Icarie, quit working. When they did they hungered and finally they starved. Hate and dissension grew up among them. Quarrels and fights followed. One day they kicked Etienne Cabet, their leader, out.

Less than seven years after he led his Icarians to Nauvoo, to build his Utopia, he died of exposure and starvation, penniless, a miserable outcast in a cheap St. Louis rooming house. He was found dead one day in an unheated room, his body frozen stiff.

I wonder what went on in Etienne Cabet's once brilliant mind, this man who was once the idol of France, when they kicked him out of his Icarie at the end of a common brawl, a fight over food. I wonder what he thought when the paradise of his dreams became a hell, when those he led to Nauvoo booted him and beat him, hurling fierce French oaths at him, denying him even bread because, they said, he wouldn't do his share of the work.

Nauvoo today is lighted from the $20,000,000 Keokuk dam. It holds back the waters of the Mississippi, standing like a rampart, only a few miles below. My America, my wonderful America, how you do change and grow!

Don't add your Fuel Bill to your other expenses of the Fall and Winter

September School Opening Expenses
October and November Fall and Winter Wardrobe Conditioning the Home for Winter
December Christmas and New Year Holiday Season

GRANTING at the outset that the coal producer and the coal dealer have selfish reasons for urging you to buy your coal early, that consideration does not in any way alter the fact that it is also to the advantage of the coal consumer to do so.

To begin with, when your coal is bought in the Spring or early Summer, the outlay comes at a time when other fixed expenses of a household are lightest.

Then, the dealer in Old Company's Lehigh Anthracite will allow you a seasonal price-reduction on all coal purchased in the Spring.

Old Company's Lehigh Anthracite is, of itself, a sterling investment. It has been America's standard home-heating fuel for over a century, proved by a century's use under all conditions, and famous for its purity, uniformity and dependability. To have one's bins filled with it, is to have the best-known protection against the Winter's cold.

MASSACHUSETTS WOMEN FIGHT FOR JURY DUTY.

Boston (P).—The Massachusetts League of Women Voters is pushing militant campaign for legislation making women liable to jury service. After eight years of peaceful petitioning the league has adopted methods of old suffrage days with Alice Stone Blackwell, who saw yeoman service in getting women the vote, in charge of the campaign. Mrs. Blackwell is honorary president of the league. Another leader is Mrs. George A. Slocumb of Worcester.

The women contend that the quality of Massachusetts jurors needs to be raised and that men of experience and training seldom are found in the jury boxes.

Actress "Made Good" by Presence of Mind

The former actress, Ida Claire, had a remarkable wit and cleverness. Once she was playing in a small town in one of those breath-taking melodramas of former times. The climax came at the end when she fell dead, poisoned, while the curtains slowly ascended.

One evening after she had dropped dead and was waiting to be shut from view the curtain got hung. It would not come down.

People in the audience seeing the curtain remain up decided the play was not over, so they sat and waited.

Ida on the stage kept up her stimulation of the rigidity of death, but it was very trying on her nerves and muscles, and she was hoping every second the curtain would start down. Finally she despaired of the stage hands fixing the thing, so with a bound she rose to her feet and cried angrily at the invisible enemy: "The villains! They will not let me rest even in death!"

And with a properly offended attitude she flounced off the stage.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)
New York—Francis X. Bushman is in love with Cuba and a Cuban. Back from the island he stressed its superiority to Hollywood as a place for making films and volunteered the information that the third Mrs. Bushman would be a native whose first name is Cisselita.

Hollywood, Calif.—James Cruze and Betty Compton of the films have agreed to divorce. They are living apart. The marriage was six years ago.

Norwalk, Conn.—Henry Arthur Bishop, Jr., former husband of Gloria Gould, and once described by her as a handsome Yale boy, is to marry Miss Edith Lyons Wood, banker's daughter and interior decorator.

New York—The Bank of Manhattan building on Wall street is to be the tallest in the world, 540 feet. The Woolworth is 792. The Chrysler building on Forty-second street, under construction, will be 609.

Munich—General Ludendorff is to publish a weekly. Its policy will be anti-semitic and anti-Free Masonry.

New York—Some literary sharpshooters have discovered that John D. Rockefeller was wrong in attributing to an English servant girl authorship of some verse he distributed at church in Lakewood, N. J., last Sunday. "The Divine Office of the Kitchen," a young British author of reputation. An English servant represented it as hers and deceived a London preacher.

Rio De Janeiro—Beauties are on the wing. Contestants are flying hither from 14 states to contest for the right to represent the country in a Galveston pageant of pulchritude.

New York—Because there is insufficient interest, the New York Cooking School, established in 1874 by society women to instruct wives, daughters and domestics, has been dissolved by court order. Its property is to be sold for charity.

Red Bank, N. J.—Mrs. Keith Miller of Australia has been studying dots and dashes for four months in order to act as second pilot and radio operator in a proposed flight from Los Angeles to London via New York and return, starting in June.

Clementi Lived Long
Clementi, the pianist and composer, was born when Handel, Scarlatti, Arne, Gluck and Haydn were alive. And before he died, at the age of eighty, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin and many other famous musicians were born, including the quite recent Cesar Franck. The fact of one man's life covering such a number of composers and such an amount of music as they represent, reminds us of the prolific output of genius from the middle of the Eighteenth to the middle of the Nineteenth century. There is no likelihood that the 1850-1950 period will in that regard come within measurable distance of the preceding hundred years.

Disturbed Honeymoon
The little man dashed along the platform as the train was moving out and made for the last carriage, at the window of which a woman was frantically waving her handkerchief. He was about to grasp the handle of the door when the porter pulled him back.
"You mustn't board the train while it's moving," said the porter. "Besides, that compartment is engaged."
"Engaged!" shouted the little man, dancing about in his rage, as he watched the train disappearing. "Of course it's engaged! I engaged it myself, and that's my wife at the window, off on her honeymoon!"—London Answers.

Heroic Self-Sacrifice
When Jerusalem was taken there were three strongholds: One—Masada—endured a siege for three years, but the commander of the town realized at length that there was no hope of escape except by death and decided to anticipate their fate. Each man slew his wife and children, ten men were selected by lot to stay the rest, one man slew the other nine, fired the palace and fell on his own sword. When the place was finally stormed there were found living two old women and five children hidden in caves.

No Elbow Room
"What do you sell at your lunch-counter counter?"
"Spiced vittles only," announced the druggist. "I haven't got room for the man who has to square away with knife and fork."

In the great foyer of the Paris opera is this illuminated sign: "See Germany First." The wording is in English.

Early Agriculture
The art of agriculture, the first step in civilization, was first practiced in the Near East—in Asia or Africa—according to archeological research, and the first grain growers are believed also to have been potters. These two arts spread into the Aegean area, to the plain of Hungary, to Switzerland and the Rhine country, and then to the Atlantic coast. It is now asserted that agriculture and the potter's art reached Britain at the dawn of the Neolithic age.

RAILROAD CITES CAUSE OF PASSENGER DECLINE
New York (AP).—The Pennsylvania railroad company ascribes to a half dozen principal causes the steady decrease in rail passenger traffic throughout the country. These reasons are:
(1) Automobiles, (2) improvement in telephone communications, (3) more general use of telegraph, (4) faster mail schedules, (5) relocation of industrial and assembling plants, and (6) migration of agricultural population to the cities.
The company believes that the decline will "stimulate cooperation" between rail, highway and air transportation.

Dr. Fassett at P. T. A. 6 Meeting

The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 6 held one of its best attended meetings at the school on Tuesday afternoon. The afternoon's program opened with a piano duet played by two little girls, Priscilla Nolan and Marjorie Teas. The title of the duet which they played so very well was "Coming Home From School."
Mrs. Boerker, president of the Association, presided at the business session when Mrs. Lane gave an excellent report as financial secretary. Mrs. Kelley, treasurer, reported a substantial sum in the bank. At the close of the business session the president turned the meeting over to Prof. Miner, principal of the school, who gave a talk on Parliamentary Law.

The speaker for the afternoon was Dr. Edwin C. Fassett, who talked to mothers especially on the care of the eye, ear, nose, throat and teeth of their children, both of pre-school age and school age. He drew a diagram of the mouth and explained it in detail, and emphasized the fact that mothers need not have any fear of a mastoid operation if performed just as soon as the trouble has been diagnosed as mastoiditis, for the resistance of the small child is very great. He warned them to take notice of a first and second pain in the ear—calling them first and second danger whistles—and made plain the necessity of taking the child on complaint of the second pain, at once to the family physician for examination. Speaking more generally, Dr. Fassett said that in all of his experience in the schools in New York city, wherever there was close cooperation between parents, teachers and school doctors and nurses, schools were never closed because of an epidemic, but where such cooperation was lacking some of the schools have been closed as many as four times. Therefore he urged the mothers and teachers present to cooperate with their school physician and nurses in having their children examined for no well child breathes through the mouth and that is one of the things noted by both nurses and doctors and may lead to other troubles. Dr. Fassett's plain, direct, understandable talk was listened to with close attention and was greatly appreciated.
For the social hour following Miss Thorne and a committee of mothers acted as hostess and served refreshments.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Charming Frock for the Growing Girl.

6445. Cotton broadcloth is here combined with checked gingham. This is a good style for tub silk, for jersey, crepe, linen or pique. Printed voile with organdy is also suggested. The waist blouses slightly above the belt, beneath which it is joined to the yoke portions of the plaited skirt, which forms a wide panel over the front. The collar is arranged on the dress in kerchief fashion.
The pattern for this attractive style is cut in 4 sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. To make the dress for a 10 year size will require 2 1/2 yards of one material 36 inches wide. If made as pictured in the large view, collar, binding and belt will require 1/2 yard of contrasting material 36 inches wide.
A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

INDUSTRIALISM ROOTS OLD FAMILY LAUNDRY

New York (AP).—The old family laundry is disappearing and in its place, says a recent announcement by the National Laundry Owners Association, is rising another billion dollar industry.
The nation's laundry bill in 1926 was $500,000,000 and the figure is expected to reach $1,000,000,000 before the end of next year. In New York city consolidations in the laundry business have already produced one concern with an annual gross income of almost $10,000,000.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

NAVY AND WHITE ARE IN THE VANGUARD FOR TOWN WEAR

New York—Navy blue and white is again a spring favorite. It has several interpretations, as for instance in prints, but it is perhaps smartest when blue is lightened by white details, or when white is smartly trimmed with navy, an arrangement especially applicable to sports and midsummer uses.
The wool dress has come into its own and is never more smart than when in navy. Challies are one of the sheer wools en vogue, but there are many others meriting praise. Just as once no wardrobe was complete without a tailored suit, so now no woman is well outfitted without a light weight wool frock for travel, for shopping or for general gad-about usage.
The wool frock got its inlings in coat dress form, but it has not retained the lines essential to that type of dress. Light weight woollens are fashioned on soft, often bloused lines, and are seen in redingote effects and in the modified princess silhouette about which so much has been written.

Navy blue coats are another success this spring, strongly rivaling black, and this of course brings into prominence the navy hat and hats of "The well baby is the happy baby," say authorities on baby care, "and the 1929 mother knows more about keeping babies well than any of her predecessors."

At the famous Maternity Center in New York, one of the important things through which mother love is the safe cleaning of baby's clothes.

"At the Maternity Center Ltd. is used for cleaning all of baby's things—clothes, blankets, and even toys."

Poached Eggs and Rice
Arrange delicately poached eggs, sliced and lightly peppered, on a bed of hot, boiled rice. (One cup dry rice makes enough to serve six. Cook rice until tender in boiling, salted water, then heat over very low flame, or in top of double boiler, until grains of rice are dry and fluffy.) Pour about one-half cup light brown melted butter over top of eggs and sprinkle, if you like, with ground cheese. You might also arrange around edge of platter small mounds of cooked, chopped spinach, or place piles of new asparagus at each end of dish.
Poached Eggs Mexican
Wash and remove the seeds from six green peppers. Cover them with boiling water and allow to stand fifteen minutes. Pour off the water and chop peppers fine. Season them in four tablespoons of butter until tender, adding three-fourths teaspoonful salt and one-eighth teaspoonful pepper for seasoning. Meanwhile, poach six eggs and arrange on rounds of hot, buttered toast. Sprinkle the eggs with salt and pepper and cover top of each poached egg with a layer of the cooked green peppers. Serve at once. This recipe serves six.

"Foreign Legion" is often used to designate volunteer corps of foreign sympathizers raised by states at war, often by smaller states fighting for independence. The term "Foreign Legion" is colloquially but incorrectly applied today to the Regiment Foreign in the French service, which is composed of adventurous spirits of all nations, and which have been employed in many arduous colonial campaigns.

This cleaner makes soap and water do more work

Melo softens hard water, prevents the dirty ring from forming around the bathtub, the washbasin and the sink. It cuts grease, dissolves spots, puts sparkling shine on china, makes clothes gleam with whiteness, and gives you a pleasant, soft-water bath.
Use Melo. Use it because you've got to have soft water before you can get anything. Melo is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. And with soap it saves from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. Get it at your grocer's.

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 10 (AP).—Financial shifts of speculative support in today's stock market resulted in the period-end prevailing in professional trading circles. Prices moved upward at the opening, broke sharply after midday when some weakness developed in the Radio shares and a few specialties, and then rallied again when heavy buying was resumed in the oil group.

Call money renewed at 5 per cent but advanced to 5 1/2 as banks continued to call loans in preparation for mid-month settlements. Time money continued firm.

The New York Clearing House Association today approved a change in the rules whereby a charge of not less than 1/2 of one per cent per annum shall be paid on loans placed for the account of out of town banks.

One of the most important business developments of the day was the announcement of a gain of 266,377 tons in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation last month. United States Steel opened 14 points higher at 187 1/4, dropped to 185 and then recovered its loss of the tonnage announcement. Superior Steel, which has been under pool manipulation, dropped 4 points. Most of the other steels pointed upward.

The break in the radio shares confirmed reports of "air pockets" in the market. Kolster, which sold as high as 7 1/4 this year, broke 11 points to 32, and Crosley dropped 5 points. Radio Corporation moved up 3 1/2 points to 96 1/2 and then fell to 92.

Short selling was an important factor in the decline.

Wright Aeronautical broke 11 points. International Telephone 9, touching a new 1929 low at 117 1/4. The drop of 5 1/2 points in Hupp Motors to a new low at 55 1/2 was associated with unconfirmed rumors of liquidation by one of Wall street's most prominent operators.

Pan-American issues, both of which touched new high levels for the year, led the recovery in the oil shares.

Yellow Truck was heavily bought on reports that the company had finally turned the corner after seven years of unprofitable business. One block of 10,000 shares sold at 45 followed by a further advance to 45 1/2 up 4 1/2 points.

72 Million Loss in Ford Co. Surplus

Boston, April 10 (AP).—The 1928 financial statement of the Ford Motor Co., filed with the Massachusetts Commissioner of Corporations, shows a profit and loss surplus of $22,429,562 as of December 31, 1928, as compared with $94,851,961 for the year 1927.

The reported loss of $72,221,455 did not take into account any dividend withdrawn during 1928 by Henry Ford, his wife, and Edsel Ford, the three owners of the company.

It is believed unlikely, however, that any payments were made to the stockholders in view of the recent expenditures in connection with reorganization of plant and product, which caused an indicated loss of $12,756,727 in 1927.

Assets were:

Real estate	$156,229,266.72
Machinery and equipment, furniture and fixtures	$155,921,365.82
Merchandise	$162,773,704.55
Notes and accounts, received cash, stocks and bonds, patent rights	$275,926,656.10
Deferred charges to operations	$1,045,415.12

The company's liabilities were:

Capital stock	$17,261,366
Accounts payable	$83,909,629.19
Reserves	$5,114,656.22
Profit and loss surplus	$352,629,562.52

Food Requisites

The most important mineral substances required in food are the salts of iron, iodine, phosphorus, calcium (lime), manganese, potash and soda. Iron is required for the blood. The red coloring matter, largely composed of iron contained in the red corpuscles, carries the oxygen taken in by the lungs all over the body.

U. S. STEEL'S UNFILLED TONNAGE SHOWS GAIN.

New York, April 10 (AP).—The United States Steel Corporation today reported a gain in unfilled tonnage during March of 266,377 tons to a total of 4,410,713 tons on March 31. This contrasts with a gain of but 34,854 tons during February. The total of unfilled orders at the end of March compares with 4,144,341 at the end of February, and 4,109,487 at the end of January. It shows a gain of 75,512 tons over March 31, 1928.

This gain from Feb. 28 to March 31 is the largest since last December, and brings the total of unfilled tonnage to a level not closely approached since February, 1928, when it reached 4,398,189 tons. The March gain in new business was established despite record production and shipments.

The high rate of operations has led to predictions in Wall street that the company's earnings in the first half of this year will run from $9 to $11 a share on the present common capital of 7,116,235 shares.

Great Conqueror Had Spice of Philosophy

After having defeated and taken prisoner Balazet, emperor of the Turks, Timur-Lenk had him brought to his court.

He noticed that he was blind in one eye and began to laugh.

Balazet was indignant.

"Do not laugh at my misfortune, Timur," he cried. "Remember that it is God who gives us realms and empires; the same disaster can happen to you tomorrow that has happened to me today."

"I know," said Timur. "that it is in God's hands to dispose of crowns as He will. I am not making fun of your misfortune. God preserve me from it; but the thought that went through my mind on seeing you was that God must look on these thrones and scepters as very paltry things if He gives them to such badly made people as you and I who are blind in one eye and I who am lame."

Preserving Rose Scent

Attar of roses is obtained by distillation from small white roses, known as Musks, and a dark red variety. It takes 180 pounds of rose petals to make an ounce of rose oil, but twice this amount has been used at times, depending upon the quality of the flowers and the climatic conditions at harvest time.

The harvesting of the roses occurs during the latter part of May and the beginning of June. A good harvest lasts about twenty-five days and requires damp, cool weather, as the flowers are picked in the morning while the dew is still on them. A period of hot sunshine during the harvest time will seriously damage a good crop.

Market Place Mobs

The mobs of the market place are the most troublesome of all—those namely which have entwined themselves around the understanding from the associations of words and names.

CUTS OWN THROAT TO SAVE HIS LIFE

Copenhagen, April 10 (AP).—Anders Hansen, elderly mechanic, cut his own throat to save his life today.

Hansen was found with a gaping wound in his throat and taken to a hospital where, when he had been treated and was able to tell his story, related that he had swallowed a piece of bread crust the wrong way and was choking to death.

He decided that he must apply heroic remedies. Drawing his pocket knife, he made an incision right under the spot where he felt the bulging crust to give himself air. His drastic surgery saved his life.

Whose Roof is over your head?

We do not wish to be impertinent, but we do ask in all seriousness whose roof is over your head? If it be some other fellow's, may we not be permitted to point out to you how it might just as well be your own roof? We have some very pretty modern homes that we can sell on most convenient terms; terms no more exacting than paying monthly rent.

STYLES CHANGE IN SMUGGLING

Wops and Boons Replace
Chinks and Dope in Caribbean Sea Trade.

San Juan, P. R.—Styles in smuggling as in all else change with the years and the conditions governing the business. The heavy traffic in "chinks and dope" that once kept the revenue cutters shooting in and out of obscure Pacific coast bays has given place along the passage of the immigration laws of the United States to a brisk trade in "wops and boons" in the Caribbean sea.

The immigrant, whether he be an American, Greek, Hungarian, or Italian, who is trying to get into the states in violation of the quota regulations, is known in the trade as a "wop," and although he pays from $150 to $2,000 to get from a Caribbean island to the mainland, neither his life nor his person is respected.

Immigration officials believe the contraband human beings are sometimes thrown overboard when the revenue cutter closes in upon the smuggler. They are forced to this grisly conclusion because of their frequent frustration when they have known to a certainty that they were about to make important arrests.

Cuba Is Junction Point.

Times without number the revenue cutter has put out in pursuit of a boat known to be carrying aliens, only upon overhauling the craft to find neither liquor nor aliens aboard.

That liquor is thrown over the side is an old story. That Chinese coolies in the old days of "chinks and dope" went overboard is frequently discussed. Proof is lacking because the jettisoned cargo is weighted to carry the evidence to the bottom of the sea.

The carriers of "wops and boons" use every known variety of ship. A certain leakage takes place at the line of piers where transatlantic liners dock, but the trained and experienced smuggler has a number of bases of operation in the Antilles.

Cuba is one of the junctions in the system. Haiti and Santo Domingo are believed to serve as way stations, as do scores of the obscure and all but unknown islands of the Lesser Antilles. A better class of immigrants is worked into the United States through South American ports and the regular passenger service. These spend months in Brazil or Argentina, finally migrating northward on purchased or forged birth certificates.

Birth-certificates and other credentials, however, are not those of the land of the stopover, but are procured from the allies. A Spanish business man of New York was approached this winter with an offer of $800 for the birth certificate of his daughter, whose death had occurred a month before.

The smuggling lines are carefully worked out, and because the income is high there are agents everywhere to get the contraband human beings into the country.

Seize Steam Yacht.

Recently the steam yacht Calumet, formerly owned by Atwater Kent, was seized in Porto Rico by immigration and customs officials on a "wop and booze" running charge. The vessel had picked up routine members of the "crew" at Havana, and two of them, who they were detained by the immigration office. The captain and owner of the yacht were arrested. They said they had not intended stopping at Porto Rico, but burned on grounds drove them into the hands of government agents.

There are other craft of equal size, though of smaller size, plying in the "wops and boons" lines between the Antilles and Gulf and Atlantic bays. Innocent looking fishing schooners carry fishermen who go ashore and "make" the boat.

And therein lies one of the most attractive features of the alien smuggling business. When asked why he did not go in for the opium trade or some less bulky cargo, a smuggler replied, "Well, you see, when you are running wops you put them ashore, point out the lights of the town and say, 'Best in.' You can't do that with booze and dope. The wops market themselves."

There are "wops" on Caribbean islands who have been waiting four or five years to get into the country. Some have made money while waiting, and a great many have decided that there is a good living to be made in the tropics. They are saving their passage money and possibly their lives as well by not going any farther.

No Sound-Proof Room Has Been Developed

Henry Bernstein, French playwright, hired a builder to build him a sound-proof room in his apartment. The room cost 175,000 francs and failed to be sound-proof, so Bernstein sued the builder and recovered 37,000 francs damages.

Publisher Horace Stokes, discussing the case, said: "Writers are always looking in vain for sound-proof rooms. You remember the sound-proof room that Carlyle built on top of his little house in Chelsea. It wasn't sound-proof at all."

"Carlyle couldn't sleep in his Chelsea home on account of a rooster in a neighbor's garden. At last, worn out, a nervous wreck, he went to the neighbor and said:

"For the love of heaven kill that rooster of yours, or it will kill me. Look at my bloodshot eyes and shaking hands. The bird crows all night and I never get a wink of sleep any more."

"No, no, Mr. Carlyle," said the neighbor, "it don't—it can't crow all night."

"Perhaps not," said Carlyle, "but when it isn't crowing I lie there, breathless and tense, waiting for it to begin again."

HARDER'S

Redeemers Take First Game from Congregationals

The Redeemers trimmed the Congregationals, 37 to 22, in the first of the three-game series which is being played to decide the champions of the Senior Sunday School League. The game was played at the "Y" court Tuesday night. The tilt was hard fought all the way. The Congregationals had a scoring rampage and then the Redeemers scored steadily. The score was in the Redeemers' favor by three points at the end of the opening quarter. When the half came around the tally was deadlocked at 12 marks. It was in the final session that the Redeemers outscored their opponents to take the lead by a safe margin and finally the game.

In the first quarter there was very little scoring. Plenty of shots were taken but few found the hoop. However, the Redeemers got the jump on their opponents and managed to hold it. For some reason or other the Congregationals didn't have their usual panache but they seemed to have their eyes for shooting with them. The Redeemers were playing top notch basketball and this was a big factor in helping them to have the upper-hand at the end of the first quarter, 6 to 2.

It was in the second quarter that the Congregationals found the hoop frequently enough to tie the tally up at half time. They sunk them from all angles of the court. Before the Congregationals couldn't get through the Redeemers' defense but now they seemed to get through and sank them fast and plenty. The Redeemers never realized their position was so threatening until their opponents were within two points of their lead. Following this Krum caged a long shot to tie things up at 10 points. For the first time the Congregationals went into the lead when Mills tallied from scrimmage making the score 12 to 10. They didn't hold this lead long for "Chet" Fox made a deuce just before the whistle sounded to knot the score at 12 points, as the half ended.

One after another dropped through the net as the Redeemer men tossed them at the hoop in the third quarter. Fox broke the tie by making a two-pointer and after this tally they continued to score until they reached the 23 mark before the Congregationals scored. Messinger made one from scrimmage. Spalt sunk two fouls, Fox slipped in a single and a double and Messinger again tossed in a deuce. After this drive for points ended Krum found the hoop from the middle of the floor for the first Congregationals score. Following this Cassell and Krum again did the scoring act while Houghtaling made his long field. The third quarter ended with the Redeemers far in front, 25 to 18.

The last quarter like the third was all in favor of the Redeemers. The latter gathered 12 points to their opponent's 4. Fox collected 8 of these 12 points while Houghtaling and Messinger made the other 4. The Congregationals made all their points from the foul line. Rockefeller and Cassell each made one of these singles while Dawkins made the other two. The game continued hard and fast up until the final whistle. The battle ended the score being, Redeemers, 37; Congregationals, 22.

RED SOX PRACTICE PLEASES MANAGER.

The first workout of the season held by the Red Sox baseball club at the Athletic Field last Sunday pleased Manager Bill MacDaniels very much and he expects soon to have a strong nine in the field ready for the best opposition that this vicinity is able to produce.

Owing to the number of men who tried out for the team, MacDaniels will have a wide choice from which to form his nine. About fifteen took part in the practice, which brought out much talent, but as yet the weeding out process or assigning players to fixed positions has not started.

Among those who capered at the Athletic Field in the opening practice were Hank Krum, Jack Dawkins, Herb Mills, George Dawkins, John Snyder, Johnny Fisher, Pete Bucyrus, Joe Dulin, Fred Rice, "Bing" Van Elten, Charles Herdick, Ernest Ladette, Carl Nikit and Manager MacDaniels. Another practice will be held next Saturday at 2 p. m. on the Athletic Field.

Teams who would like to book games with the Red Sox can do so by communicating with Ernie Leadbeater, booking manager, whose phone call is 522.

Keen Rivals End It All Tonight

The Chandelers and Port Ewen Knights of Pythias team will bring their season to a close tonight, when they meet in the final of a three-game series to decide supremacy. The tilt will be played on the Y. M. C. A. court at 8 o'clock.

It is expected that there will be a record crowd out to see the tilt, as both teams have taken a game in the series. Of course the series is the second of the season, the Chandelers having taken an earlier one by three consecutive wins. Nevertheless the Knights are considered on an even plane with the "Y" representatives owing to the showing they made this year not alone while playing against the Chandelers but on other occasions. Both teams are ready to put forth their best efforts, so fans who attend the contest are promised a real fast battle. This meeting will be preceded by a fray between the "Y" Men and the Y. M. C. A. Senior team, that gives promise of being an interesting as the feature match. The opening game is scheduled for 5 o'clock.

Rondouts Open With Sox Sunday

Sunday, April 14, will be a big day for followers of the Rondout A. C. and the Blue Sox Club, because these teams are to open their baseball season then at Block Park. The contest is slated to start at 3 p. m. with Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey tossing the first ball of the season to Alderman Alice Osterander of the Seventh ward.

Both teams are in shape for the fray. The pitching staffs of the rival clubs are said to be of very good calibre, each manager having a wide choice from which to pick. Artie Colneke, known as "Waco" Peters, John Coughlin or "Lefty" Doyle, "Cuz" Dulin will do the catching. "Cik" Huber is slated to start the game for the Sox with Tomasek behind the plate.

The contest will be refereed by Tom Coughlin, who knows the diamond game to a T. Fans seem to be on edge waiting for the game, so the opening of the teams' season promises to be a very successful event.

WITH THE BALL CLUBS

(By The Associated Press.)

Little Rock, Ark.—After clowning their way through most of the spring training campaign, the world's champion New York Yankees selected for their real demonstration of first class baseball. Against the Little Rock Travelers yesterday the Yankees played a dashing game in the field and got some excellent pitching from Gordon Rhodes and George Pipgras to boot. The Yankee batters found Woolfolk, a left hander, quite a puzzle, but eventually they got to him for a 3 to 1 victory. Babe Ruth got one hit, a double, on which he subsequently scored the first Yankee run on another double by Gehrig.

Shreveport, La.—The Pittsburgh Pirates were jubilant today over the showing of their two bespectacled hurlers, Carman Hill and Lee Meadows, against the Detroit Tigers. Hill and Meadows experienced difficulty in getting into shape the early part of the spring training, but in yesterday's 10 to 3 victory gave evidence of being in mid-season form.

Norfolk, Va.—It begins to look as if the veteran Hank Gowdy, who was a leading major league catcher when he was with the Braves 15 years ago, might have his coaching duties more than once to catch for the Braves this year. Yesterday Gowdy was behind the platter for the full nine innings, nursed Southpaw Ed Brandt along to pitch almost shut out ball, made two pretty singles and galvanized his despondent mates into playing real ball. The sum total of the afternoon's play was a 13 to 3 victory for the Braves.

Richmond, Va.—The Red Sox have been giving their pitchers unusually tight infield support in recent games. Reading yesterday got nine men on bases through eight hits and a dropped outfield play. Yet only 31 batters faced Charley Rufig and Milt Gaston.

Houston, Texas.—Joe McCarthy's cub machine, hitting on all cylinders, moved northward tonight after a most successful spring exhibition season in Texas.

The Cubs defeated Houston, 5 to 2 yesterday, running their season exhibition record to 21 victories out of 26 games.

Philadelphia.—Al Simmons, leading batsman with the Philadelphia Athletics, has rheumatism of the ankles, and is definitely out of the game for at least two weeks, probably longer. Summa will play in the outfield during Simmons' absence. Joe Boyle, regular shortstop is rid of his sore arm and will be ready for opening day.

Manager Shotton of the Phillies said there was no truth to the report that Catcher Spud Davis would be traded to the Boston Braves for Shortstop Eddie Farrell.

Shreveport, La.—The Tigers were to make their final attempt to win a baseball game from the Pittsburgh Pirates today before entraining for Detroit. The Pirates handed Detroit another trimmings yesterday, falling upon Prudhomme and Barnes for a 10 to 3 victory.

Augusta, Ga.—Walter Johnson and his Senators from Washington gave the New York Giants another sound thrashing yesterday, 7 to 3. They battered Fred Fitzsimmons for six runs in the second inning.

DISCOURAGES PINK TEAS ON DIAMOND

Doesn't Like Fraternizing With Rival Clubs.

Fraternizing of baseball players at rival teams will be absent during the coming season at Newfield park home of Bridgeport's Bears, if Hans Lobert and President Fred J. Voon have anything to say about it. This much discussed problem in major and minor leagues has been settled once and for all by the Bridgeport clubs heads who feel that a team on the field is out to win ball games, not for a social gathering.

Manager Lobert's opinion in the matter is just a reflection of the stand taken by John McGraw, who claims that ball players can gather socially off the field, but on it they should be enemies, writes Joseph F. Kraynick in the Sporting News. Lobert claims that fans who come early to ball parks gain the wrong impression when they see players of rival teams in close conference in front of the stands and on the diamond.

Early arrivals come to see the players in action just as much as during a game and they don't care to watch a couple of players tell each other jokes when they should be out in the field," says Lobert.

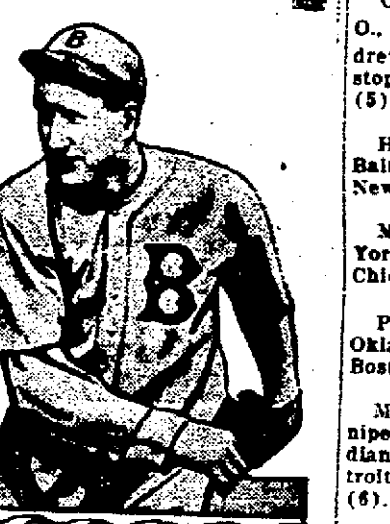

"The minute a ball player arrives on the field the only thing that should be on his mind is to win that afternoon's game and he should bend all his efforts to that end by practicing."

Two other teams in the league are expected to follow this idea, as managers of the Springfield and Hartford clubs are graduates of the McGraw school. The league heads have ignored this and the habit has been prevalent for several years.

"Riding" opposing players, another important phase in organized baseball, is another thing that will be watched by Manager Lobert. In his opinion this is an important part of the game and sums it up as follows: "If any of my players can take the mind of an opposing batter off his business for just a second by some 'wise crack' when the situation is critical then he has done something to win the game, but rowdiness is out of the question."

"None of my players will be allowed to become obnoxious by his actions, but I do want them fighting for the game."

Zinna Shaping Up for Buckley

Nick Zinna, one of the outstanding scrappers in the Conway-McCabe National Guard stable here, is daily conditioning himself for his coming bouts with Soldier Buckley of New York at the local armory on Friday night, April 12.

Zinna fears nothing from the hard-punching soldier who holds the distinction of being the only man ever to knock the strong Johnny Carpio of this city. Buckley has the dynamite which he showed by putting away the local lad right in the Kingston drill shed before a surprised gathering of staid entertainment patrons.

Buckley's attitude toward the fight is entirely different from that of Zinna's. The soldier is somewhat leary of entering the roped arena with the Kingston boy, who beat Carpio on two occasions by his clever boxing and tantalizing punches.

The New Yorker realizes that he will meet a much cleverer opponent in Zinna than he faced in Johnny Carpio, although he believes that he can take Nick's hardest blow without the knockout effect. It is Nick's jab that Buckley fears most.

Zinna, no doubt, will use his cutting jab to a great extent, but the way he is pounding the sandbag promises that there will be plenty of steam behind most of his blows. Incidentally, Nick seems much stronger after the several weeks' rest that he took and it would not surprise many who watch him go through his daily workouts to see him put Buckley away.

The match will draw a record crowd to the armory, it is forecast for reserved seats are selling very rapidly. Those who wish ringside chairs are advised to phone the armory as early as possible.

SPRING ATHLETICS START

FRIDAY AT WEST POINT.

West Point, N. Y., April 9.—Spring intramural athletics for the Corps of Cadets will start here Friday, April 12, according to orders just issued by Lt. Col. R. C. Richardson, Jr., commandant of cadets. Each afternoon one-half of the corps will be in athletic uniforms engaged in one of eight different sports. Major E. L. Kelly, master of the sword, will be in charge and has arranged schedules so that every available athletic field will be in use.

Baseball, soccer and track are the principal spring intramural sports, each activity having approximately 130 players. First classmen who will graduate in June in addition to furnishing coaches, will concentrate on polo, tennis and golf, the sports in which they as officers will engage. Other classes, in addition to furnishing cadets for the three principal sports will have representatives playing polo, working in the gymnasium and swimming. Each cadet is required to qualify as a swimmer.

From 15 to 20 baseball teams will be organized in addition to the regular varsity and plebe teams which are working out under Coach "Moore" McCormick. Fred Canasus, who introduced class golf instruction in 1921, will have classes of approximately 40 men each day. George S. Ward, who has just reported as tennis coach, will have similar large classes.

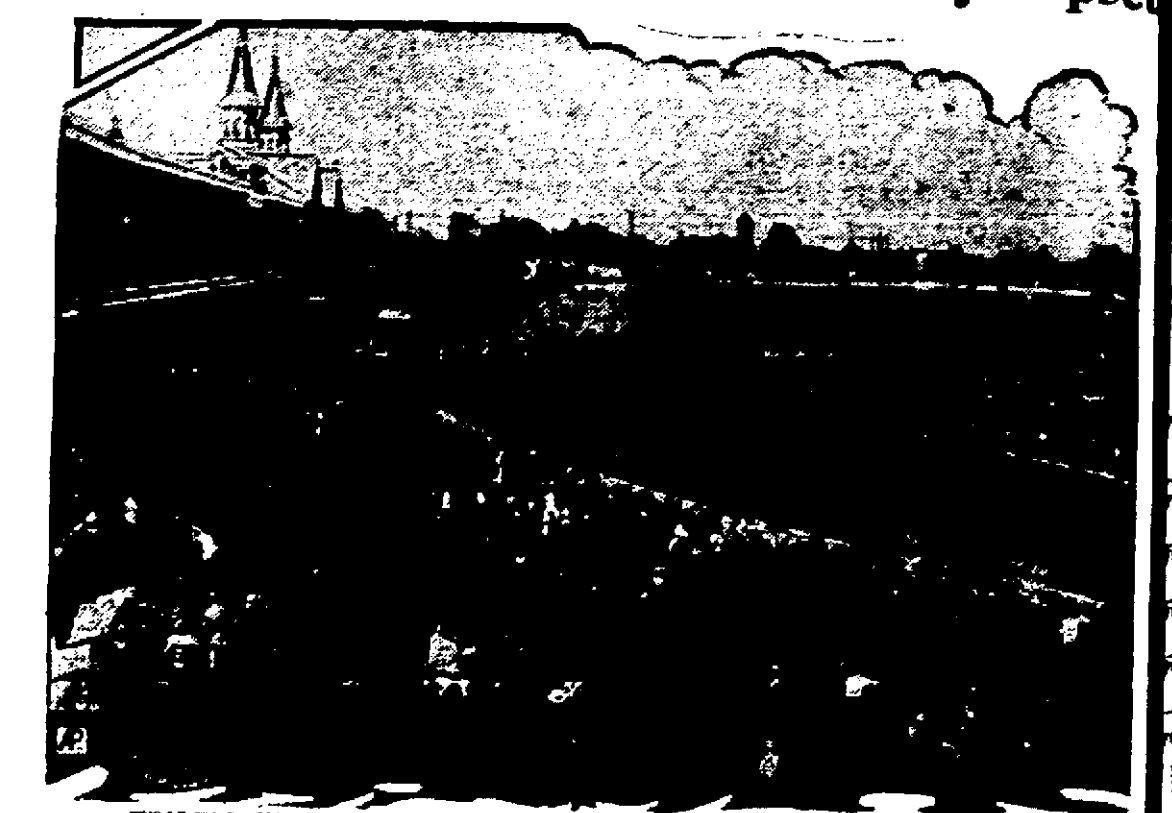

Because of the widespread growth of athletics in the regular army and their importance in the physical development of soldiers, Major General W. R. Smith, superintendent of the Military Academy, has in force a policy which requires cadets to engage in a number of different sports. This will result in cadets being qualified to coach soldier teams when they join regular organizations as second lieutenants.

Kentucky Derby's 54 Years Tell Tale of Many Upsets

A typical derby day at Churchill Downs, Louisville, showing the crowd from the first turn.

By F. P. HANKERSON

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Louisville, Ky., (AP).—Fifty-four years ago this May a little red horse known as Aristides sped valiantly around a race track in this city while some 10,000 persons roared their hopes and delight through the sunny air.

From that date, May 17, 1875, starts the glowing tale of the Kentucky derby, a tale to be written in the ledger of sport for the fifty-fifth time at Churchill Downs here May 18. And what a tale it is! Pages of heart throbs and heart breaks, of joys and sorrows, of dazzling speed and sport unequalled.

In the first derby, and in many that have followed, the favorite has not always won. It seems that Aristides was not even supposed to win.

As is fitting in the first running of an historic event, there is a tale of pluck and courage handed down from that first derby of 1875. It appears Aristides was to be but a pawn to the ambitions of his stablemate, Chesapeake. Aristides was to set such a dizzy pace that all opponents would be worn down, whereupon Chesapeake was to come dashing to the front and win the race.

Like the gallant racer that he was, Aristides obeyed instructions and whirled off the mile at a high gait. It was now that Chesapeake was to come up and take the lead, but no Chesapeake appeared.

A story has it that Price McGrath, owner of both colts, was standing at the stretch. Grasping the situation, he waved to Jockey Lewis to urge Aristides on. The time for that memorable mile and a half was 2:27 1/2, a great race for such a track, and a great victory for Aristides.

In the second running Vagrant, an outsider, dashed in ahead with the famed and favored Parole out of the money. It was Baden Baden, a field horse, which pressed through in the third running to win, and thus it has been often through the years. The derby has been a derby of upsets.

For 26 years the derby distance was a mile and a half. When shorter distances gained favor, the course was shortened to a mile and a quarter in 1896. Spokane, another outsider, established the fastest time for the mile and a half derby course, 2:24 1/2, in 1899, setting a record that stood as long as distance was in vogue.

To Old Rosebud, revered winner, goes the honor of fast time for the present distance, 2:03 2/5—a record that has stood attacks of such immortals as Sir Barton, Behave Yourself, Omar Khayyam and a number of others.

There are those, however, who argue that Old Rosebud won only 114 pounds and Spokane only 118, while the present weights are 126 pounds for colts and 121 for fillies.

The first race at historic Churchill Downs was not the Kentucky derby. It was a dash of mile and a quarter won by Willie Cottrell's Bonaventure, ridden by jockey named Billy Lakeland. The inaugural day was May 17, 1875, and the Kentucky derby was the second race on the program.

Now the Kentucky derby is as much a horse race as Kentucky consider it a tribute to the county to Kentucky and to the horse.

DAN CUPID OBJECTS TO PHONE SERVICE.

Hartford, Conn. (AP).—Cupid has received a staggering setback in his campaign here for more marriages.

The latest telephone directory came out with 26,000 changes in numbers. Now it has developed that many young men had an extensive acquaintance among "Mays" and "Maidens" and what have you, their only clue to the girls' actual identity being a telephone number.

The new directory has left these young men considerably annoyed, they have complained to the telephone company. A man, they contend, should not set out to call Helen and get May. Or, even worse, call May and get a butcher shop. Many romances, they claim, have been blighted.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

A PAINTER'S CONSCIENCE

IT WAS said of William Strang, the famous portrait painter who died some time ago, that he never could escape from his conscience.

This was not a handicap when he had for a sitter some American or English beauty, who could stand the realistic treatment that flasks his red-chalk drawings.

It was a different matter when he was busy with some one, male or female, who hoped that the artist would not be too truthful.

For there are many who do not think as Oliver Cromwell did on the subject.

When the great lord protector was sitting for his portrait, he said: "Paint me as I am. If you leave out a single wart I won't pay you a penny!"

All notable painters have not been bothered by Strang's love of truth, a fact which might be proved by a portrait familiar to Americans and indeed to people all over the world.

It is only necessary to compare the statue of the Father of his Country by Rodon, which stands in the statehouse in Richmond, Va.—a replica of which was unveiled in Trafalgar square, London, a few years ago—with Gilbert Stuart's painting, or paintings of Washington, to see that his head of the first President is a glorified one.

Indeed, the portraits of the great man by other artists have not the regularity of feature that we have come to associate with him.

Nobody imagines for a moment that Washington, the most modest of men as far as he was concerned, wished to be shown to remote ages other than he was. There can be no doubt, however, that Stuart wanted to give an idea of his true dignity and character, even if he had to sacrifice strict fidelity to veracity in doing so.

In this he succeeded. Since then everybody has been satisfied that Stuart's canvases represented the real man, even if they varied from the physical in certain details. That is why Stuart's portrait was selected for our bills and postage stamps.

So it might be said that Gilbert Stuart was not false to his conscience in any real sense of the word. For he produced the spirit of his immortal sitter for future ages.

His case was very different from that of many other painters who set a fashion from time to time.

Thus all the ladies painted by the Scottish Raeburn—whose work is in many American collections—tend to look alike. They have the same features, the same features, the same expression.

Perhaps the psychologists might suggest that after the first picture by Raeburn had proved a success, the women of fashion of the time tended to look like it.

Was it not said in the nineties that Charles Dana Gibson, the popular black and white artist, had created a new type of American girl, the girls themselves began to repeat that model in their appearance.

Some will laugh at this as an absurdity, like James McNeill Whistler's remark, that the fogs of London did not exist until he began to paint them.

DAINTY DESSERTS

A DESSERT which is good, dainty and not too much work to prepare, is always an addition to one's collection of recipes. The following will be able to serve for an afternoon, when entertaining one's friends:

Ethelred Food.

Cut two dozen fresh marshmallows into small pieces. To do this dip the shears used in cutting into water occasionally and the process will be easier. Whip two cups of thick cream until stiff, fold in the prepared marshmallows and one-half cupful each of finely cut maraschino cherries drained from their juice, and the same amount of well-drained and minced pineapple. Chill several hours, serve in stemmed glasses with chopped pistachio nuts sprinkled over the top. Serve with lady finger sandwiches and hot chocolate.

Canned Apricot Shortcake.

Prepare the shortcake, bake in two layers, spreading butter on the top of one and placing the other layer on that. Remove when well baked, spread with butter and arrange canned apricots over the layer, cover with the other layer, spread with butter and top with apricots. The juice may be boiled down and served as a sauce if desired.

Apple and Marshmallow Dessert.

Peel, slice and quarter five or six good flavored apples. Arrange with one-third of a cupful of sultana raisins in layers with one cupful of sugar. Add one-fourth of a cupful of water and bake until the apples are soft, well covered. Remove cover and cover with marshmallows one inch apart. Return to the oven and brown the marshmallows. Serve hot with sweetened cream.

Serve plenty of lettuce daily, as it is one of the most needed of greens, especially when green things are scarce, as they are in the winter time. If one has a garden spot all these good things may be canned for use in winter—peas, beans, spinach as well as corn and carrots.

KINGSTONIAN RECEIVES
FELLOWSHIP AT BROWN

Providence, R. I., April 10.—Edwin K. Gedney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orison Gedney of 21 Janet street, Kingston, has received the Morgan Edwards Fellowship in Brown University for the academic year 1929-1930. Dean R. C. D. Richardson of the Graduate School at Brown announced today.

The Fellowship represents the income from a fund of $10,000 established years ago by the Philadelphia alumni of Brown with the understanding that whenever the income should amount to a thousand dollars a year it should be awarded "to an alumnus of not more than ten years' standing for the pursuit of original research work." The donors also said that the work might be carried on wherever it seems that the best facilities exist for the study of the subject selected.

Mr. Gedney, who will continue his work in geology, is a graduate of Brown in the class of 1926. During his senior year he was elected to the Sigma Xi, the honorary scientific fraternity. After graduation he returned to Brown as an assistant and graduate student in the department of geology under Prof. Charles W. Brown. Last June he won his master's degree in geology. He has served as geologist with the Rhode Island State Water Resources Survey and has published, with L. W. Fisher, a paper on "Mineral Localities of Rhode Island."

ARTISTIC MINSTRELS SCORES
ANOTHER BIG SUCCESS

The second showing of the Artistic Welfare League minstrel at the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Tuesday night proved a greater success than the first staging of the production on Monday evening.

A crowded theatre greeted the performers, who went through their routine like Broadway stars and added much to the prestige of Eddie Barton as a minstrel show director. He has received many compliments upon the production, which he wrote, directed and staged. Several offers have been given him to put on shows for other organizations here.

The name of Miss Victoria Mower was inadvertently omitted from the Artistic Minstrel description that appeared in The Freeman Monday evening. This soloist sang "The Song I Love" in a very pleasing manner on both Monday and Tuesday evenings and was called for several encores by the audience. Her sister, Miss Viola Mower, who was to have joined Victoria in a duet, was unable to sing, owing to illness.

Stories that the minstrel will be staged again tonight are not true.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ACTIVITIES.

Preparatory service on Thursday evening at 7:45.

Communion service and reception of new members on Sunday morning at 10:30.

The Easter pageant by the Sunday school was one of the best ever presented in the church. With chairs in the aisles and the gallery crowded, there was no standing room left and people were turned away. The scholars appreciate this tribute to their work.

The church has just closed its fiscal year with the best reports ever given. The last Sunday in March brought the largest offering ever received, although no appeal of any sort was made for it.
